SPECIAL COLLECTION

Dedication

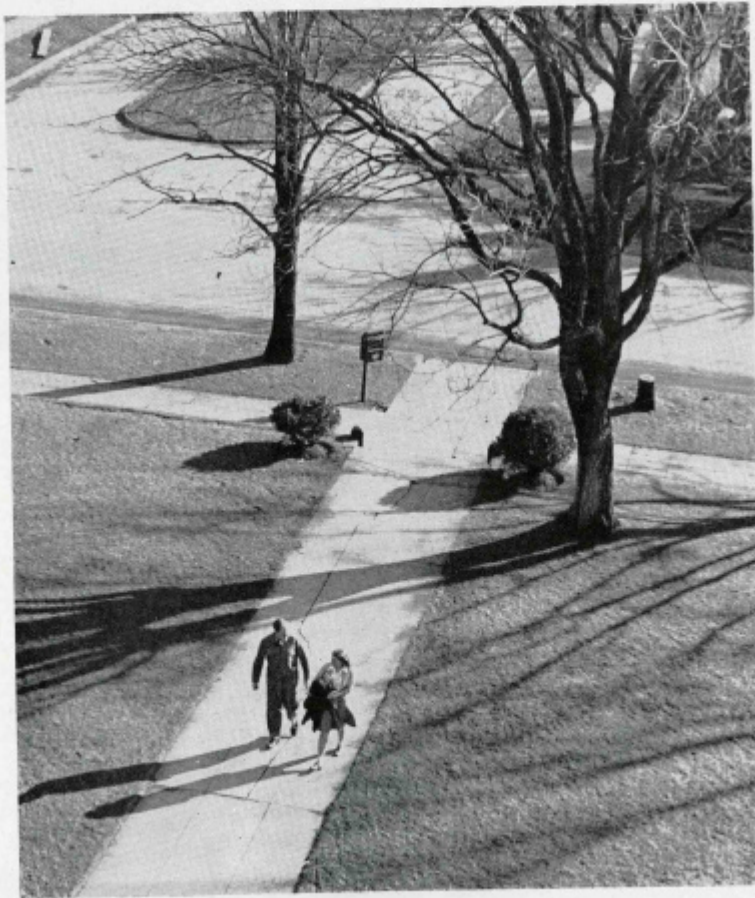

To all veterans who answered their country's call—those who left us and have returned, those from whose mission there will be no returning, and who we greatly miss, those who this year have enrolled to equip themselves for the defense of the things for which they fought, we dedicate this 1946 Hyakem.

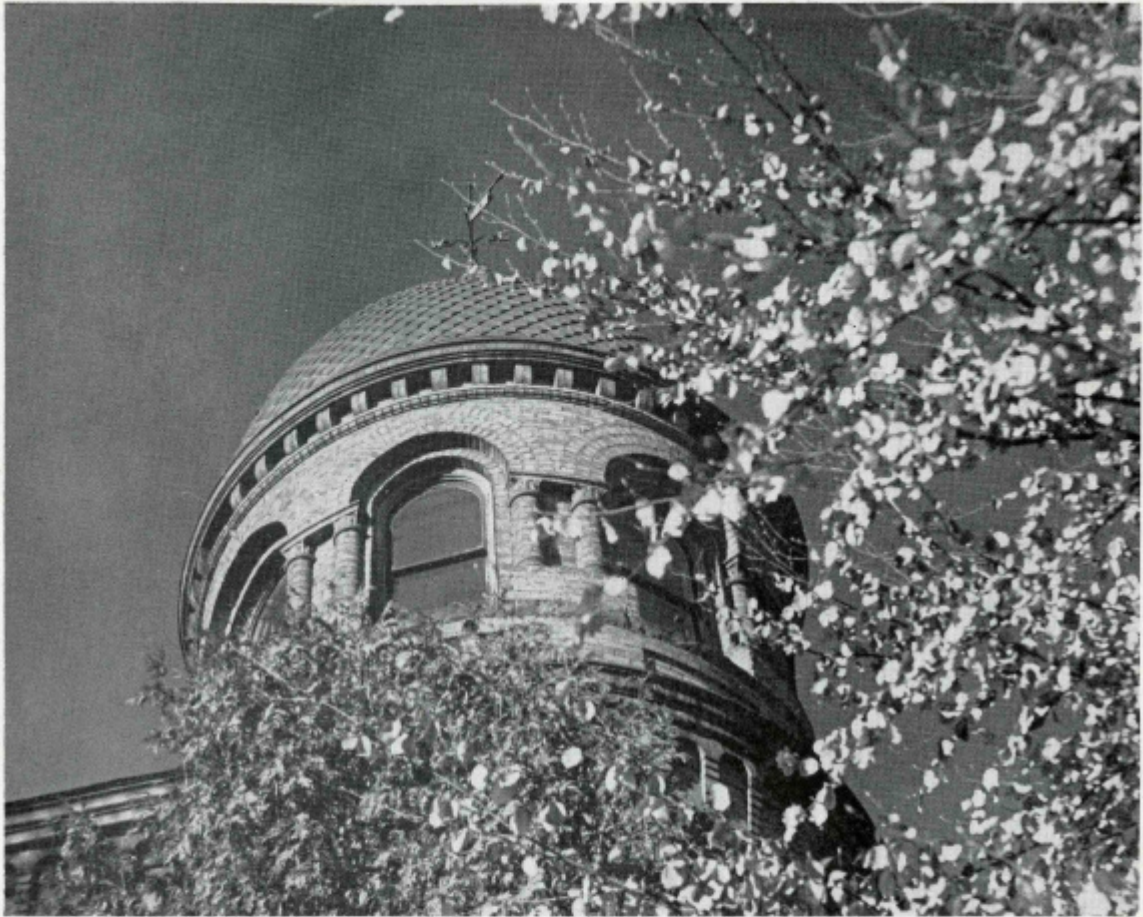

Bordering the skyline.

Foreword

The Hyakem records the year 1945-46 for the returning servicemen and women of Central Washington College of Education.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This year of 1945-46 has been a reconversion period. It has been one in which we have been making a transition from war to peace. Former students who have been in the army and navy and who have traveled widely have been returning to the campus. Their return has been a joy. The numbers have increased as the year has worn on and traditional events are once more being enjoyed. By the autumn of 1946 Central should be operating quite normally.

The Hyakem staff has dedicated this book to the veterans in appreciation of their noble contribution to our cause in the war. I wish to add my word of appreciation and gratitude for their efforts in our behalf. May they now find happy places in society. We hope to expand the number of living quarters so as to accommodate all who wish to attend Central. We have already acquired the Campus Courts, forty-eight family units from F. P. H. A. and several other houses. These enable married students to attend college, while we care for the usual single men and women.

The most pleasant part of all is that we are bending all of our efforts towards constructive activity. The future offers many challenging opportunities and the horizons look bright. I wish to join the Hyakem staff and the faculty in extending best wishes to all.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Wayne S. Hertz, the sixty-five-voice Girls' Glee Club gave a campus concert in the fall, and aided in the presentation of the Nativity at Christmas time, which was presented two evenings with an audience of approximately fifteen-hundred people.

Music activities this year have surpassed all those of the last few years.

With the return of veterans to the campus, including a member of the music staff, Major Cloice Myers, the College band and mixed chorus have been revived. Miss Scruggs, voice instructor, has been added to the staff. There are approximately ninety students on the campus studying privately in voice, piano, violin, organ, woodwind, and brass.

VOCAL GROUPS

The Girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus prepared numbers for the Northwest Choral Clinic involving school music directors from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana on February twenty-second in Yakima. Combined with local church choirs, the Mixed Chorus aided in the presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," presented April fifteenth and sixteenth. Other spring activities included a trip by the choral groups during the week of May sixth to tenth through the public schools in Central Washington, and a concert later in the quarter.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Lawrence, the orchestra resumed its activities this year. It made its appearance in a concert at a school assembly.

PEP BAND

With the return of basketball came the reorganization of the school band, led by Mr. Cloice Myers. Its appearance at basketball games was one more happy reconversion to pre-war activities.

FINE ARTS

The Creative Art Class under the guidance of Mr. Randall, provided much intriguing material for exhibit. At work at their easels are Jerry Warthen and Ray Jongeward. Ham Howard and Christine Nesbitt employ the advice of Mr. Randall.

OUTWARD BOUND

Indulging in the luxury of opportunity to experience the hereafter, according to Sutton Vane, an all-student cast scored another hit for the C. W. C. drama department, presenting the Broadway hit "Outward Bound" to a capacity audience in the college auditorium.

Thanks to the efforts of Norman Howell in casting and directing, all characterizations were excellent. In performance were Maxine Feroglia as the cheery Cockney washerwoman, Mrs. Midgit; Naydene Johnson in the role of Mrs. Clividenbanks; Hubert Beatty as Mr. Lingley; Arley Vancil as Scrubby; Frank Gregory as the young clergyman; Joe Aaron in the role of The Examiner; and Jackie Hamilton and Jerry Worthen as the "halfway" lovers, Ann and Henry. Added measure of appreciation is due Mark Hipkins for his highly creditable pinch-hit performance as Tom Prior. He was drafted from the stage manager spot in the last ten days to replace Stanley Krebs, who underwent an emergency appendectomy.

Stage settings were designed and handled by Ham Howard and Mark Hipkins. They were assisted by the production staff consisting of Ruby Gomer, Dorothy Swope, Lois Hart, Beverly Schumann, and Betty Young.

The business staff included Betty Jo Bradford, Art Feroglia, George Spelvin, Eloise Torseth, and Winifred Harrell.

BASKETBALL

Getting that old feel on the ball: Coach Nicholson hands the ball to Ivan Dorey, former Marine captain.

BASKETBALL

Basketball, idle for three years during the war was resumed this season. Spirited Winco league competition was revived, with rivalry at a new peak. Ellensburg was again to meet her traditional rivals: Cheney, Bellingham, Pacific Lutheran College and a newcomer, Seattle College.

The outlook at the beginning of the season was slim. Amid rumors that the other colleges were to floor strong veteran teams, we had one letterman, "Tiny" Jorgenson and two promising freshmen, Milt Dahlman and Don Pugh, on hand. But with the start of winter quarter prospects looked better, when "Uncle Sam" released several of our own Winco veterans. These veterans included: L. G. Carmody, C. W. C. scoring ace, Joe Pease, lanky center, cool-headed Mickey Rogers, Scrappy "Pappy" Miller, and Ivan Dorey, smooth ball handler. Other veterans strengthening the Wildcats were: Morris Stotsenberg, Jim Vernon, Bob Thompson, and "Dusty" Maher. With this host of experienced material, and long hard sessions on the maple court, Coach Leo Nicholson developed a promising ball club, gradually overlooking the problems of conditioning and team work.

The Wildcats met their first conference competition when they defeated Seattle College on a local floor 61 to 43. This successful start was over-shadowed somewhat when they dropped the second game of the series 41 to 42. Rallying from defeat and traveling to the coast they won both games of the P. L. C. series 53 to 57 and 41 to 25. With only one day's rest the Wildcats met the Bellingham Vikings on their home floor, winning 53 to 51, but losing the second 48 to 53. The Seattle College Chieftains dropped their next two games to the Wildcats 47 to 26 and 38 to 35. The Wildcats then headed for Cheney to meet their traditional rivals. With fire in their eyes the Wildcats put up a tough battle, but dropped both games 34 to 47 and 38 to 51. Returning from Cheney the Wildcats faced Pacific Lutheran College, this time winning 54 to 46 and 50 to 31. Determined to "cop" the then disputed second place, the Vikings journeyed to Ellensburg to defeat the Wildcats 70 to 52 the first night of play. With a die-hard determination the Wildcats came back the second night and rallied to a 52 to 46 victory, splitting the series. When Cheney invaded Ellensburg for the final game of the season, the stage was set for a story book finish. Cheney was determined to keep its undefeated record and the Wildcats were determined to "cop" undisputed second place. The first game was a true thriller, with the score see-sawing back and forth right up to the last seconds of play. Cheney finally snagged the winning basket in the last three seconds of play to win 47 to 50. The second night with a capacity crowd on hand the Wildcats turned in a real performance. The true spirit of peace time competition had returned. The Wildcats rang the bell and won the last game of the season 69 to 58, giving them a second place tie in the Winco Circuit.

Bobby (Pappy) Miller of Hoquiam one of the "old men" who came back from the war was awarded the inspirational player award by his team mates this year. Mickey Rogers of Ellensburg also a war veteran was voted the team captain for the year. Both Miller and Rogers had won the respective awards before entering the service in 1941.

After an absence from the campus of almost three years, the Claw chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights, National Men's Honorary, organized again at the beginning of Spring quarter with a nucleus of fifteen returning veterans. To bring the chapter up to its normal number of thirty members, pledges were initiated after proving their fitness by working with the club for a quarter.

With the motto of "Service, Sacrifice, and Loyalty" and under the guidance of their adviser, Dr. Sparks, the chapter performs many varied duties on the campus, all designed to aid and better the college.

Beginning the school year with one hundred girls, Kamola Hall started an active year by participating in the Stunt Night Program of Homecoming Weekend. Ending winter quarter, the girls presented their Christmas Party which was enlivened by the exchange of gifts and a program. During the spring quarter, the Moonglow formal was held. All the couples who attended the gala affair had a grand time.

Kamola girls also participated in the Student Memorial Parade with much pep and vigor.

The good fellowship which has prevailed in Kamola for the past year can be traced definitely to her capable corps of officers and to Mrs. Roberg who, in one short year, has made the dormitory seem like home to the girls who work and play under Kamola's rambling tile roofs.

The girls of Sue Lombard have engaged in a year of many activities. Beginning the school year was the annual Halloween Party, followed by Sue's skit in the Stunt Night program of Homecoming. The Christmas Party, with the gala atmosphere of a decorated tree, holly, and the exchange of gifts, brought Fall quarter to a happy end.

Always to be counted upon in the support of vital activities, Sue has purchased several Victory Bonds during the year, and displayed much pep and enthusiasm in the Student Memorial Parade, along with being the first to raise the one-hundred per cent quota in the Red Cross drive.

Sue's annual spring formal, this year the Lilac Lane, climaxed the year's activities during Spring quarter; Sue's girls and their friends enjoyed a wonderful evening amidst banks of lilacs. The success of this year can be attributed to the efficiency of Mrs. Coffin and the council.

MUNSON HALL

With the return of the veterans, Munson Hall's doors reopened for the men students this fall for the first time in three years. Activities began when an industrious group of men displayed a clever sign and a gruesome skit for Stunt Night during Homecoming Weekend. Highlighting activities in the fall quarter was the Date Raffle, when Munson's twenty-five men were raffled off for dates who enjoyed an evening country hay ride, refreshments, and dancing. This event was kept a secret from the girls for effectiveness, but it was finally broadcasted nationally and the news of the man shortage at C. W. C. E. appeared in leading newspapers not only in the States, but in overseas papers in New Guinea, Saipan, and other points. However, spring quarter found a total of eighty-six students residing in Munson Hall.

During the winter quarter the men sponsored the Cupid's Informal tolo dance, which was truly a successful event, with beautiful Valentine decorations, Ken Davidson's 12-piece orchestra, and refreshments served in the dormitories later.

The climax of activities in spring quarter was the acceptance of invitations to Sue's and Kamola's tolo dances.

Munson's housemother, Mrs. Prater, receives the appreciation and kind thoughts from the boys for her interest and contributions to making this a happy and successful year.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

HOMEcoming

Crowned queen by President McConnell at the annual Homecoming Dance was Wanda Pederson, attended by Princess Jane Litven and Dorothy Swope.

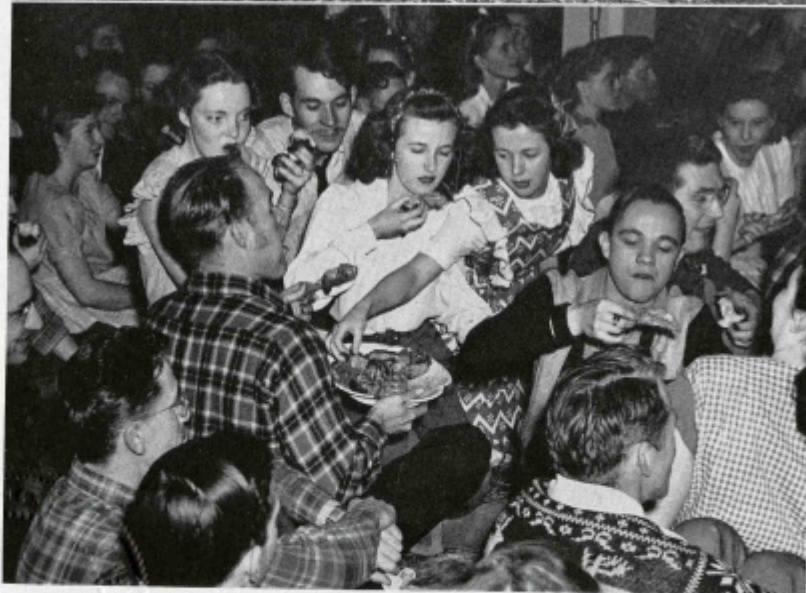

The traditional activities of Homecoming were carried on this year with registration, visiting the personnel offices and the College Elementary School, the faculty-student baseball game, the Welcoming Team, Stunt Night, and the Homecoming Dance as the high lights.

Tomlinson Field was the scene of the annual all-school picnic at the beginning of fall quarter. Faculty-student volley-ball games and of course food were the main centers of interest.

BARN DANCE

Amidst hay, music by the Rural Ramblers in person, whiskers, and fried chicken, the Junior Class presented its annual Barn Dance. Attired in pinafores, jeans, and plaid shirts, the students joined in square dances and typical barn-yard hilarity. The winner of the fried chicken raffled off by the Home Economics Club was Cleon McConnell, who, unfortunately at that particular time, had many friends.

BARN DANCE

Strummings from the gee-tar by Smokey and Frank, the raffling of a fried chicken, and the examining of all the contestants in the beard-growing contest were highlights of the Junior Class Barn Dance.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Dorothy Swope, chosen for queen of the Colonial Ball, was crowned by L. G. Carmody, representative of the "W" Club. Looking on are Rita Rose, Pat McAbee, and Georgiana Lund.

Patricia Wickham singing in the torchy style, was the featured attraction at the Flamingo Club.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Dancing and having fun at one of the many student mixers.

MUNSON'S HAY RIDE

Munson's Hay Ride was the boys' contribution to the solving of the man shortage problem on our campus fall quarter. Never to be forgotten publicity, the raffling of the men, and the hay ride for those fortunate enough to go, rocked the campus with excitement for a week.

MUNSON'S HAY RIDE

The men of Munson revealed their Hay Ride plans at their assembly.

Clutching their end of the strings, the men await their dates via the raffle.

She's got her man. Lucky girl, her number was called in Munson's raffle.

They're off for the hay ride, the finale to a week of fun and hope for the girls.

MEMORIAL SNAPS

The students of C. W. C. opened the drive for funds for the Student Union Building in a big way with a march through town led by drum majorette Aletha Warring and accompanied by the band.
